'City Celebrates!' a Great New Year's Event

By Jean Perry

The New Year's Eve 2013 'City Celebrates!' in New Bedford last year was a fantastic event for kids, art appreciators, and music lovers alike, with dozens of music performances, art exhibitions, street performers, and family-oriented activities that lasted well into the night, topped off by a magnificent fireworks display over the harbor. This year, the 2014 City Celebrates! will be just as exciting – and hopefully, a little less chilly than last year. (And it's all free!)

The historic downtown New Bedford streets, sidewalks, and parks bustle with New Year's Eve revelers during the event, which is so well-organized that all you need is the official map of the event, widely available at any of the venues with scheduled activities and also passed out on the street by organizers of the event.

If you want to plan ahead, we have the schedule of events right here for you, classified by genre, so you can get an idea of what is happening and where to head for it.

One of the earlier events is the annual inter-faith service in New Bedford's historic Seamen's Bethel at 15

Johnny Cake Hill from 5:00 to 6:00 pm, followed by an evening of live music until 8:00 pm.

For the kids, the best Toe Jam Puppet Band will be offering performances at 5:30, 6:30, and 7:30 pm at the YMCA, located at 25 South Water Street. (Parents love them too, by the way).

The YMCA will also host the Buttonwood Park Zoo with its fun Winter Animal Activities exhibit.

The 1850s Ladies will be hosting an evening of crafts and games inside the Whaling National Historical Park Visitor Center at 33 William Street. Ruth and Abby will be dressed in period costumes, showing kids how to make their own noisemakers, among other things. Drop in anytime between 5:00 and 7:00 pm.

Keeping with the kiddies, Jedlie's Magic Circus will offer their Family Magic Workshop at the Art Museum/Artworks! located at 608 Pleasant Street. During Jedlie's performances, the children are the stars of the show, so have your cameras ready for this one. (And be sure to arrive early to the performances as seats fill up fast). There will be two shows at 5:30 and 6:30 pm. And a little FYI, there are also bathrooms onsite and open to the public.

Head to the State Pier from 7:00 to 8:30 pm to watch the Brett Sylvia Puppetry show. Sylvia is a master puppeteer and fine artist. His puppets are unlike any puppets you have ever seen and will activate your child's (and your) imagination.

Make sure you catch Bill Harley, children's entertainer and storyteller, at the New Bedford Whaling Museum at 18 Johnny Cake Hill. Harley is a two-time Grammy Award winner and a recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Rhode Island Council for the Humanities. Also an NPR commentator, Entertainment Weekly once called Harley "the Mark Twain of contemporary children's music!" He will be enchanting audiences from 5:30 to 6:30 pm.

You will also find other exciting entertainment and street performers outside the museum in the Whaling Museum Plaza.

For the art enthusiasts, you will find the New Year's wish art project with Dream out Loud at Custom House Square. The Dream out Loud Center for the Arts' mission "is to advance the personal and career goals of South Coast residents through innovation, education and mentoring." It does this through its Creative Careers Program. Custom House Square is located at North Second Street at William Street, and this exhibit will go on from 5:00 to 8:00 pm.

Did your insurance company tell you to use a repair shop you don't know?

In Massachusetts, you have the right to go to any licensed & bonded auto body repair shop. Collision Services of Marion works with every insurance company at their approved hourly rate. Plus, you always deal with an owner!

Did they say they won't guarantee the repairs unless you go to their referred shop?

That simply isn't true (or legal)! All our work is guaranteed. Some insurance companies act like they are the biggest lion in the jungle and can force you to use a specific shop. If you feel intimidated call us and ask for the LION HUNTER (a.k.a. Don).

Also at Custom House Square, Jessica Bregoli's original art installation "Snowflake" will be on display.

The Photo Project "I am NB" by Nbbeautiful with U.G.L.Y. Gallery and Parks & Recreation will go on from 5:00 to 8:00 pm at Wings Court, located in the heart of downtown, surrounded by Union, Purchase, and William Streets.

There are some music events scheduled as well, starting with DJ Anghelli jamming out in Wings Court from 5:00 to 8:00 pm.

You can enjoy live jazz music at the Star Store UMASS Dartmouth at 715 Purchase Street, at the corner of Union Street. A number of performers will be playing live from 5:30 to 7:30 pm.

The West African Drum Ensemble "Kekeli" will play at the State Pier Ferry Terminal from 7:00 to 8:30 pm. The UMASS Dartmouth group's aim is to spread African music, dance, and culture throughout the campus and the South Coast region.

Folk musicians and folkies in general can head to Café Arpeggio for Open Mic Night. Give a performance, or come enjoy the live music from 5:00 to 8:00 pm. Café Arpeggio is located at 800 Purchase Street.

Fire breathers, jugglers, and stilt-walkers will be out captivating passersby at various corners around the downtown area, among other amazing street performers.

Stay for the fireworks beginning at 8:30 pm on the waterfront by State Pier or watch them from any point surrounding the New Bedford Harbor!

So bundle up and venture out into the chilly air of the last night of 2014 and make this New Year's Eve a special one for you and your family.

We at The Wanderer wish all of our readers a Healthy and Happy New Year 2015!

ORR Student Fundraises for 3-D Printer

By Jean Perry

It is time for technology at Old Rochester Regional High School to enter the 21st century, thinks junior Drew Robert, so he has taken the first step towards leading the school into the future of technology education.

Robert has taken just about every technology course offered at ORR.

"And I wanted more," said Robert during the Robotics class taught by Thomas Norris, in which Robert now acts as Norris's teacher's assistant.

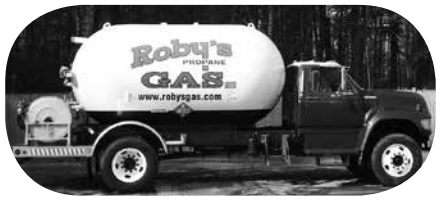

Technology is evolving fast, said Robert, and even though the school has been acquiring new technological devices for students to implement into the school curriculum, Robert wants to take it to the next dimension – the third dimension, with a 3-D printer for the school to call its own.

"It's something that me and Mr. Norris had been talking about for a while," said Robert. "There's countless possibilities for it."

Robert started to research grant and fundraising opportunities for the school to purchase a 3-D printer and happened upon Donorschools.org, where Robert submitted a proposal for his 3-D printer and the organization approved it. The website aims to assist schools in funding projects and purchases that are outside of the school budget.

So far, Robert has raised $100, and the goal is to raise $1,250 before April. Even some students have donated money towards the 3-D printer, according to Norris, which makes acquiring the printer a vested interest for the students. Norris said he supports Robert's efforts, calling Robert "a model student."

"If I didn't think he could handle it, I wouldn't have had him try for it," said Norris about Robert's ambition to land a 3-D printer for ORR. "I think it'll be a successful venture."

Robert went on about the potential uses of the printer, saying it would enhance the engineering courses by allowing students to print models that they design in class. For example, students could print out a model of a bridge they design and test the limits of its engineering.

The problem at ORR is that access to the latest technology is limited. Robert said, as far as technology equipment goes, "there isn't a lot here." He said for engineering students, outside of computers, there is a wood cutting machine but that is about it.

Norris said a 3-D printer could change some of the technology course offerings at ORR, and having one would also benefit the entire school. Norris said the printer could be integrated into the biology curriculum at ORR as well, and even into fine arts.

"I'd love to open it up to the entire school so kids can get a chance to see how it works and to use it," said Robert.

As for Robert's efforts, Norris said Robert is doing a great job so far on behalf of all the students at ORR who want to make a 3-D printer at the school a solid reality.

"We're out of the world of pencils and paper," said Robert. "We're into the world of computer design."

To make a donation to help Robert achieve his goal of purchasing a 3-D printer for the school, go to www.donorschools.org and search for the project using the school's zip code, 02739, and the keywords "Help us Print Education."

she said to me again during our Christmas season telephone call between Myrtle Beach and Mattapoisett. My mother-in-law, a woman now deep into her elderly years, is courageously facing her 92nd birthday alone, except for her grief.

Her heart was broken 20 years ago when her Roland died suddenly at the age of 80. "He was "sumin' special," she says in her unique British/Southern accent.

Long before Roland came into her life, she had been a war bride. Sylvia met her first husband, a dyed-in-the-wool hill country farmer from West Virginia, during WWII while he was stationed near her village in England. It is a story told by many from that generation. He was smitten at first sight of Sylvia. She was a petite tomboy only 17, daringly dashing about the English countryside as a lorry driver.

Sylvia had signed up to help England in its time of need. She recounts today that she loved the work, felt it was important, and was pleased that she learned to drive well enough to handle the large lumbering vehicles known as lorries. She was a 'spit-fire' ready to fight the enemy.

She grew up in the country where hunting for rabbits supplemented the family's diet, keeping dogs was strictly for getting rid of rats, and developing homemaking skills of every sort was critical to surviving. The war would mandate the use of all these talents. Sylvia was young, healthy, full of spunk, and with a steel backbone. Those last two qualities serve her well today.

She married her Yank and then immigrated to the United States after the war. The West Virginia parcel to which he brought her was not that different from the place she had just left, but now there was a grand future – a future full of food and warmth and physical love, all things she had not really known in England. They built a home and filled it with children, became part of the church community that was so important to them both, and lived happily for years.

Then the accident happened. A drunk driver crashed into their car. Her husband was killed, and Sylvia sustained serious injures to her legs. In an instant, she became a widow.

Her faith in God and self-confidence would help to sustain her in the coming weeks, months, years. But nothing could lessen the loss of her beloved husband. Life moved on carrying Sylvia with it. Her children needed her. Grief would be her secret companion.

When she retired, she spent the winter months in Florida. Living within her meager means, she took up residence in a small travel trailer set on a campsite surrounded by other widows and retirees. Here, neighbors were close by, social activities aplenty, and most of all, distractions from her interior dialog. Sylvia enjoyed it all and participated in everything. She was attractive and vigorous and full of life. Some of her spunk had returned.

Roland and his first wife were part of that community and knew Sylvia. One winter, he returned to the campgrounds a widower. His wife had died unexpectedly. There was plenty of tea and sympathy from the social circle to provide Roland with a balm for his grieving soul. And there was Sylvia. Before long, their casual relationship changed to something much more.

Roland and Sylvia wouldn't waste any time. It was too precious a commodity. They were from an era whose moral code dictated marriage if they wished to be really together. They didn't want it any other way. They married soon thereafter. They were happy. They were deeply in love. I witnessed their giddy response to one another on many occasions. Not unlike teenagers who are tickled at the sight of their new love – except for their white hair and aged faces – Roland and Sylvia could have been mistaken for kids.

Of course, they didn't hold any illusion that they would have decades together. They simply hoped for as many healthy, happy years as God was willing to provide. They filled their days with the joy of being together. It lasted for ten blissful years.

She has shared that with me, and although you never really get over a loved one dying, you can learn to live and love again. She is grateful for the time she had with both her husbands, but it is Roland who she longs for as she recalls everything about him that she holds dear and dreams about at night.

Another Christmas rolls around, another phone call from Sylvia. "Hello Mare-e-lou, it is Sylvia," she always confirms. After she reminds me of the litany of physical ailments that now slow down her otherwise willing spirit, we fall into our usual touching-base conversation.

She'll want an update on all of Roland's family members. I'll begin to give her what little information I have, even repeating myself from talking points shared during previous conversations. She'll accept it all as new information with grace. Inevitably, only a few minutes pass when she announces, "Oh, I miss my Roland!" It is said with pain as real as the day she found him dying in the yard while mowing the lawn. It has indeed been a very long twenty years for Sylvia.

She is my hero on so many levels. She has had to bury a son and two husbands. The pain, loss, and sorrow she has endured while finding the strength to give of herself to others, even at her advanced age, speaks volumes to the character of this woman.

Applicant Told to Re-file

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Jean Perry

"It's hardly a 'McMansion,'" Engineer Rick Charon told the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals on December 11, when describing his client's plan to build a raised single-family house with two new decks at 80 Dexter Road. That may be the case, but Pamela Oliveira will still have to withdraw her application for a setback variance and instead file an application for a special permit.

The footprint of the home remains the same; however, the two decks increase the lot coverage, and ZBA Chairman Eric Pierce said the plan creates another nonconformance at the site.

"Variances are difficult. At least how we use them in Marion," stated Pierce, who said there was a possible issue with the bylaw relative to this project, and a special permit must be filed. "It's your lot, do what you can," continued Pierce, adding that it was up to the board to regulate expansion such as this. "It's a tough line to walk

Pierce, after some debate with Charon, told Oliveira to file for a special permit, although Charon did not fully agree.

"I can't tell you what to do," said Pierce, "But I would withdraw and come back as a special permit." Pierce pointed out the difficulty Oliveira would have proving financial hardship seeking the variance.

Oliveira's deadline to file in time for the January 8 meeting was that following Monday, and Charon said he hoped to make it in time.

Also during the meeting, the board continued the hearing for Marvin and Carol Bannon of 22 Wilson Road in order to take under advisement their application to

HOLIDAY DANGERS

What are the most serious holiday dangers to my pet?

The most common problem associated with pets and the Christmas season is the ingestion of tinsel by cats. The tinsel may become lodged in the intestine. The most common symptom is frequent vomiting over a short period of time.

I have heard poinsettias are poisonous. How dangerous are they?

When eaten, poinsettias cause irritation to the tongue and other tissues of the mouth and possibly the stomach. Thus they cause discomfort but probably not severe illness.

How dangerous is chocolate for pets?

Chocolate is a dose related poison as is coffee. A small amount of chocolate is not dangerous, however, when a 10 pound poodle eats a pound of bakers chocolate, the dogs life may be jeopardized. Early signs of chocolate poisoning are shaking and hyperactivity.

The staff of the Mattapoisett Animal Hospital wishes you and your family health and happiness in the holiday season and throughout the coming year.

raze an existing house and build a new one.

Engineer David Davignon described the plan to construct a new two-story house, located within a flood zone, according to the flood plain requirements. The house would have a drive-under garage and include a new deck, as well as a formal driveway off Dexter Road. The lot is a corner lot and currently has no driveway.

The board's concern was the new house's effect on the character of the surrounding neighborhood, with Pierce referring to the plan as a "significant creature." The board decided it would like to visit the site to determine if it would have a negative impact.

"I can understand the logic behind it (the plan for the new house)," said Pierce, acknowledging that the existing cottage is dilapidated and small. "It's just that this is a big change."

The hearing was continued until January 8.

Jon Delli-Priscoli, owner of 91 Water Street, spoke with the board about his plan to restore back to its original condition the small cottage that sits on the lot. Delli-Priscoli wanted to hear the board's opinion before officially filing with the board.

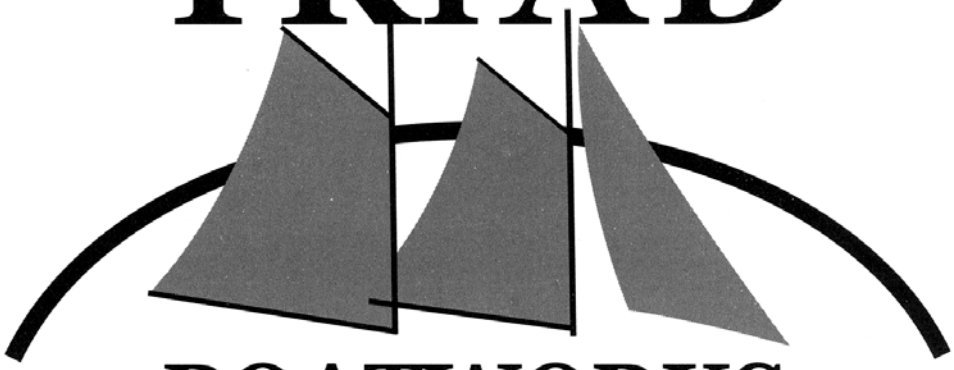

The plan is to expand the bathroom and widen the doorframes to 36 inches to allow for wheelchair access.

"You'll never know there was an addition," said Delli-Priscoli, saying he wants to keep the original character of the 1931 cottage, adding that it is the smallest house in his neighborhood.

Delli-Priscoli said Building Commissioner Scott Shippey sent him to the ZBA because the plan creates a "five-foot discrepancy."

"We get constrained with the numbers pretty tightly," stated Pierce. "But I think it's worthy of discussion." Pierce advised Delli-Priscoli that if he could minimize some of the five feet in question that would help his case.

The hearing for Tabor Academy was continued until January 8, and the application filed by Jerry and Beth Devlin, owners of 17 Hiller Street, was withdrawn by the applicant.

The next meeting of the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals is scheduled for January 8 at 7:30 pm at the Marion Town House.

Applicants Make Pitch for CPC Funds

Mattapoisett Community Preservation Commission

By Jean Perry

The Mattapoisett Community Preservation Commission reviewed the applications of several projects looking for 2015 CPC funding on December 18, when applicants gave commission members the details of their proposals, hoping that they will receive the CPC's support.

The role of the CPC is to decide how to spread Town Meeting approved taxpayer funds reserved specifically for community preservation among several interests: housing, recreation, historical preservation, and open space.

The commission reviewed seven applications that evening, altogether requesting a total of $469,230. Town Meeting has approved allotting $94,883 for Housing Reserve; $55,285 for Historical Reserve; and $29,883 for Open Space Reserve. The Designated Reserve currently has $99,070; the Undesignated Reserve is currently at a total of $87,640; and an additional $146,999 is available from the tax-override.

One application is under further review, pending recommendation from the Mattapoisett Historical Society deeming the Friends Meeting House a historical asset to the town. Project Manager Deena Kinsky of the Mattapoisett Friends is seeking $146,980 "or any part thereof," for the major restoration project of the 1827 building.

The Mattapoisett Bike Path Committee is seeking $25,000 to cover the cost of ongoing engineering fees, permitting fees, design work, and an environmental impact study for Phase 1B of the Shining Tides Mile of the bike path.

The Bike Path Committee also requests $17,000 for the preliminary design for Phase 2 to connect the bike path with Marion.

ongoing conservation and cataloging of its archives.

The Historical Society also requested $22,750 for the restoration and refinishing of the original windows of its historic 1821 building.

The Town of Mattapoisett applied for $7,500 to replace the wooden split rail fence on two sides of the waterfront at Shipyard Park.

The Town also applied for funding to go towards the short wharf fender repairs as part of the Historic Town Wharves restoration project. The Town requested funding for three different options: Option A requests $130,000; Option B requests $70,000; and Option C is a request for a total of $240,000 for the project.

The CPC is in what it considers Phase 2 of the review process for selecting which projects will receive CPC funding. Michael Gagne, town administrator, still needs to give his presentations to the commission regarding the two applications for the Town.

During a follow-up interview, CPC Chairman John DeCosta said the commission is a little more behind in the process than in previous years, by about a month. DeCosta said that by February, the commission will have scored each project using the point system it uses to evaluate each project to determine which projects are at the top of the priority list.

"And then it becomes a matter of which we can afford and where we draw the line with that," said DeCosta. Looking at the big picture, he added, "We may have enough money, but we might not have enough between accounts," to fund all the projects within their categories, he stated.

After it selects which projects to fund, the CPC will forward its recommendations to the selectmen before Town Meeting in May.

"Town Meeting will make the final approval," stated DeCosta.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Community Preservation Commission is scheduled for January 15 at 6:30 pm at Center School.

Sewer Stub Questioned

Mattapoisett Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

Returning for another informal discussion with the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission was Ronald Sylvia, an abutter to 16 Cove Street, which was deemed an unbuildable lot in 1997 by the Mattapoisett Building Department.

Sylvia had previously brought to the attention of the Conservation Commission a questionable sewer stub at that location that caused him to wonder if the lot would be designated buildable in the future. His main concern was that the area was a barrier beach, and as such, no new housing units could be permitted.

Sylvia returned on December 22 to share his conversation with the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection and to once again point out that the plan of record, which the ConCom conditioned for sewer installation, did not include number 16. Sylvia said the DEP told him that since the 10-day hearing process at the state level had passed, the local Conservation Commission was the correct authority to which he should address his concerns.

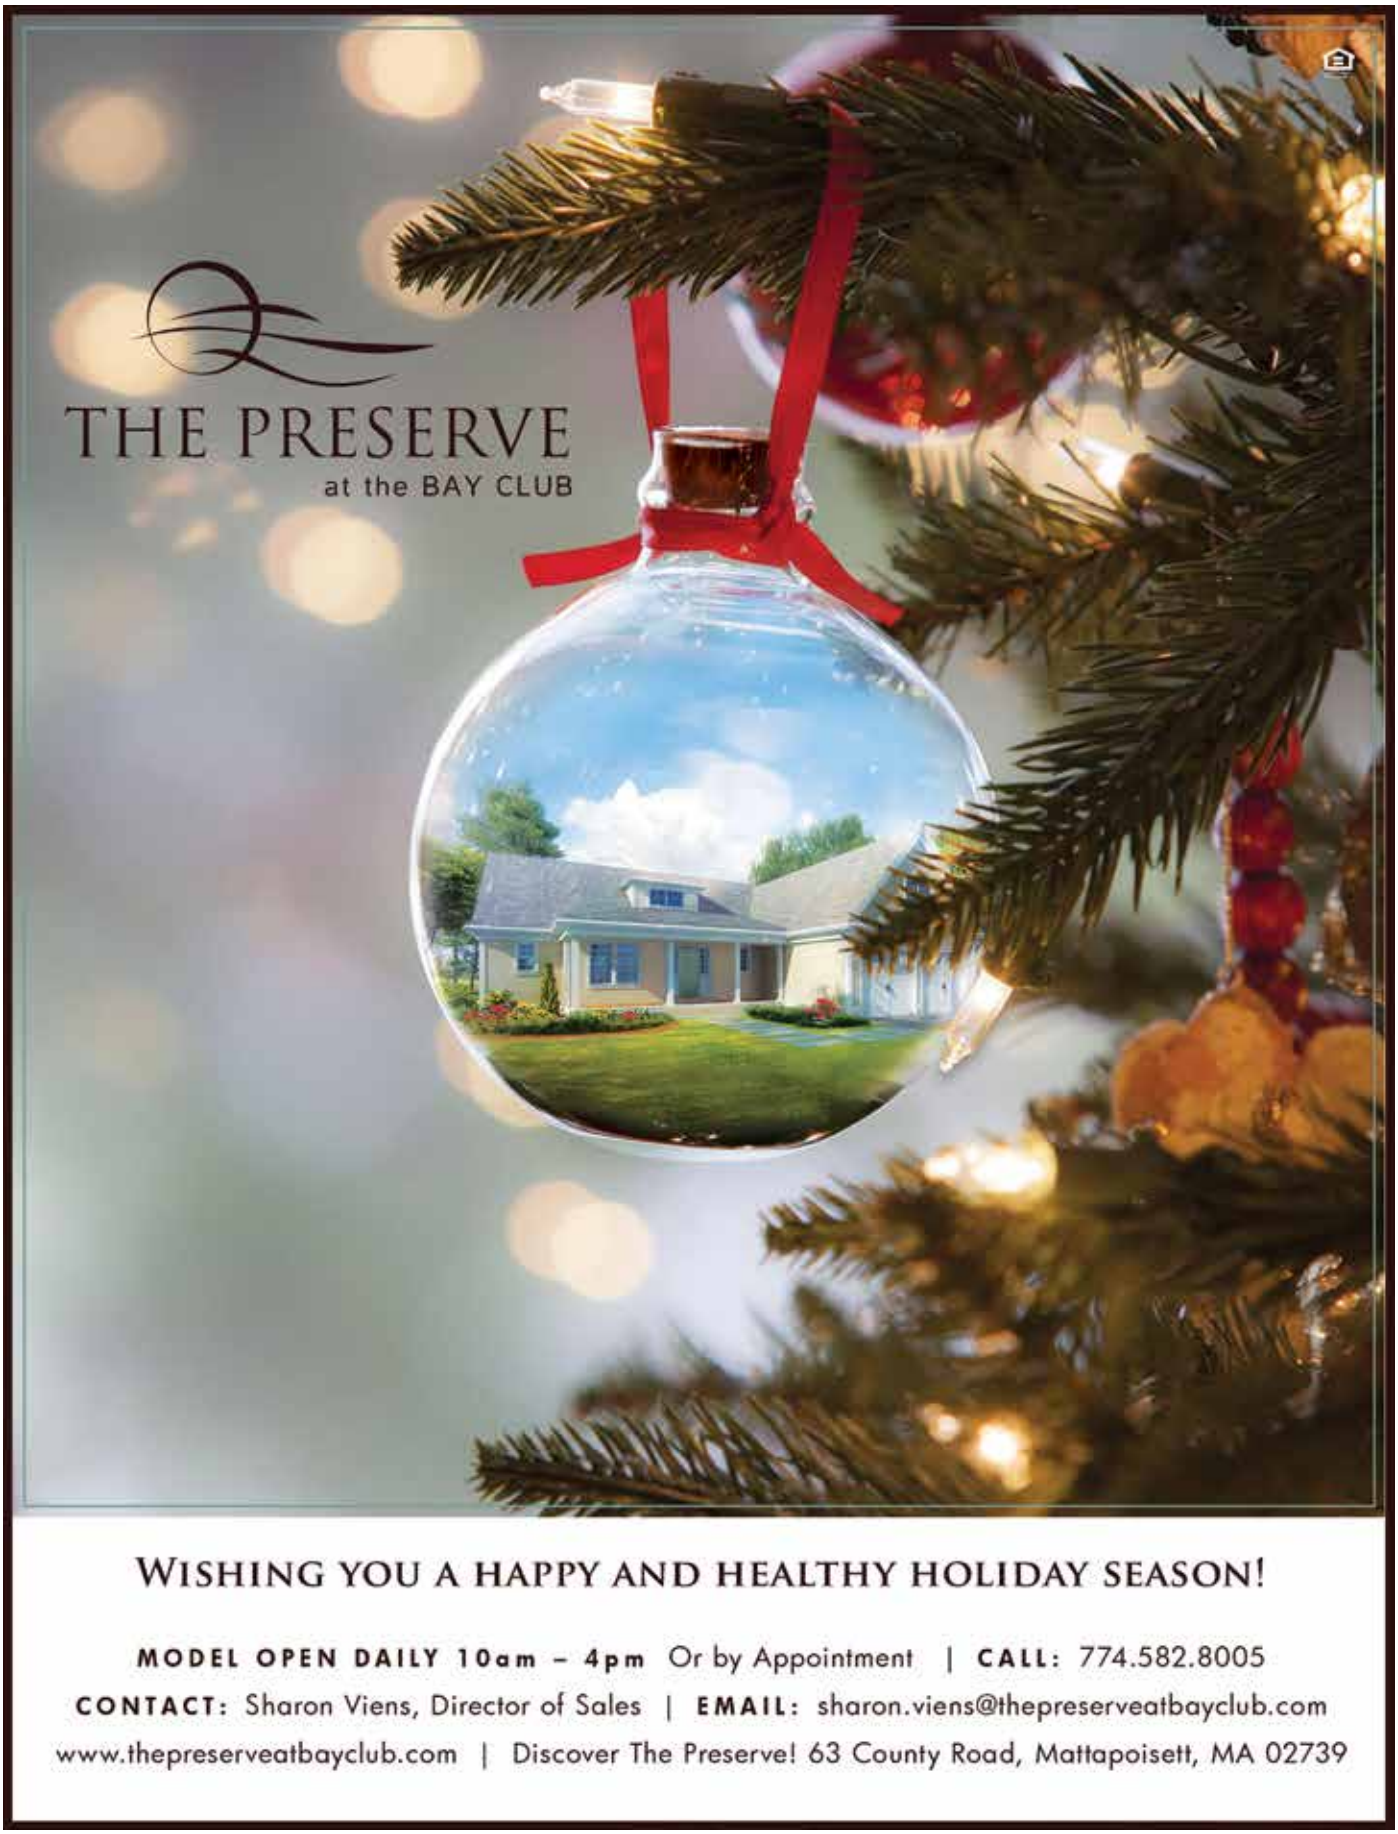

Janice Brockman of 14 Cove Street was also in attendance to lend support to Sylvia and to hear how the apparent conflicting documentation might have happened.

Ronny," said Conservation Commission Chairman Bob Rogers. "I don't want to spin you around, but if you haven't been to a Sewer Commission meeting, that would suit you better." Rogers went on to impress upon Sylvia that he was not willing to speak about specific properties or make any decisions without the other landowner being given sufficient notice of a public hearing. This was simply an informal meeting, Rogers reminded Sylvia.

"It's probably an honest mistake, it's an easy mistake to make," said Rogers. "We are going to figure out what needs to be done with the help of the Sewer Commission." He then told Sylvia to get on the agenda with that commission so they could hear his concerns and look into the matter.

Rogers also said that maybe the owners simply wanted to use the sewer connection for their trailer during the summer season and that he did not believe anything underhanded was taking place. Historically, the lot in question has been used as a seasonal campsite with the placement of a travel trailer that is not permanently in place.

Sylvia had hoped the Conservation Commission would find the Cove Street sewer project in violation of its permit by placing a sewer stub on a lot that was not on the plan of record. That did not happen.

The commission members, with Rogers in the lead, had reviewed all available documents prior to the meeting. Rogers said that he had spoken to Water and Sewer Superintendent Nick Nicholson, who informed him that it was their policy to allow a sewer stub wherever there was a water service – 16 Cove Street has public water service.

Satisfied that Rogers would be in contact with the Sewer Commission and armed with the knowledge that such a commission existed and controlled public sewer service, Sylvia thanked the commission.

In other business, Patricia Cunniff, 9 Avenue "A", received approval with an Order of Conditions for the installation of a new septic tank, pump chamber, and leaching area to be a mounded system in a coastal flow zone.

Highway Superintendent Barry Denham, with the Town's engineer John Connell of Field Engineering, was present to discuss the Acushnet Road culvert reconstruction.

They plan to shore up the headwalls of the damaged culvert for the season in an effort to try and minimize potential storm water damage. They will also remove the roadway expansion over the culvert. The culvert is in imminent danger of completely collapsing, Connell said, if this stopgap work is not done.

Connell said that they would have a complete plan ready for state review in January with work to begin in spring 2015.

Denham said the area would be clearly fenced off and marked for safety, but warned, "People will be

Denham received the permit he sought to perform the emergency work – once a few good weather days are forecasted – with an Order of Conditions to install silk filtration curtains and compost wattles.

Rick Charon came before the commission regarding the continued request to receive an amended Order of Conditions for the Crystal Spring solar field, necessitated by changes to the plan of record from mandates by the DEP.

Noting that this solar facility will be the first one required to count the area where the solar panels are installed as non-permeable, Charon said, "No other solar facility has been designed to these standards yet … it is

ORR Holiday Break Update

ORR Update

By Patrick Briand

Around Christmas time, the topics of receiving presents and going to parties usually dominate conversation amongst young people. However, giving gifts and giving back to the community often get overlooked.

In recent years, many programs have been developed to bring a focus on giving back to the holiday season. One notable example is Toys for Tots, an organization founded in 1947 that has distributed almost 500 million toys in its 67 years of existence. Old Rochester Regional's Community Service Learning Group runs Toys for Tots at the school, and group advisor Heidi Graser recently discussed this year's drive.

Ms. Graser is a science teacher at ORR whose main focus is biology. She recently took on the advisor position after anatomy teacher Mary Cabral retired.

The Toys for Tots drive started off a bit slow this year, but Graser was not worried.

"It picked up in the last week," said Graser. "It seems that people started their Christmas shopping a bit later this year, and that's consistent through all of our Toys for Tots drives."

Graser came to head the Community Service Group after Mrs. Cabral retired this year. She also has a history with the charitable organization.

"My family's been doing it for about eight years," said Graser. "This is the first year it's been major for me, since I'm running the group, though I've been working on it in the school for three to four years."

Toys for Tots is very important to Graser, and she reinforced the meaning it has to its participants and its benefactors.

"For our students, it provides the experience of giving back and being grateful for what you have. And for those receiving gifts in the community, they get the feeling that people care for them," Graser explained. "Also, it's great for the kids to get the presents."

Thanks to Graser's help and the donations of ORR students, the Toys for Tots drive will make a big impact in our area this Christmas season.

Over the first three months of the 2014-2015 school year, news spread quickly about the extended Christmas vacation included in this year's schedule. The vacation, which begins on Friday, December 19 and ends when students return to school on Monday, January 5, features 16 full days of rest and relaxation for students and teachers.

The last time Christmas fell on a Thursday was 2008, but district schools had classes on Monday the 22nd and Tuesday the 23rd, so having these days off makes this year very unique.

A couple of students shared their opinions on the extra long break. Junior Jacob Castelo was brimming with excitement about it.

"Everyone needs time to recharge, relax, and of course, sleep," said Castelo. "I'm more excited about this vacation than any other previous vacation, due to the amount of time off."

Senior Shannon O'Malley has a couple things on her to-do list over the long break.

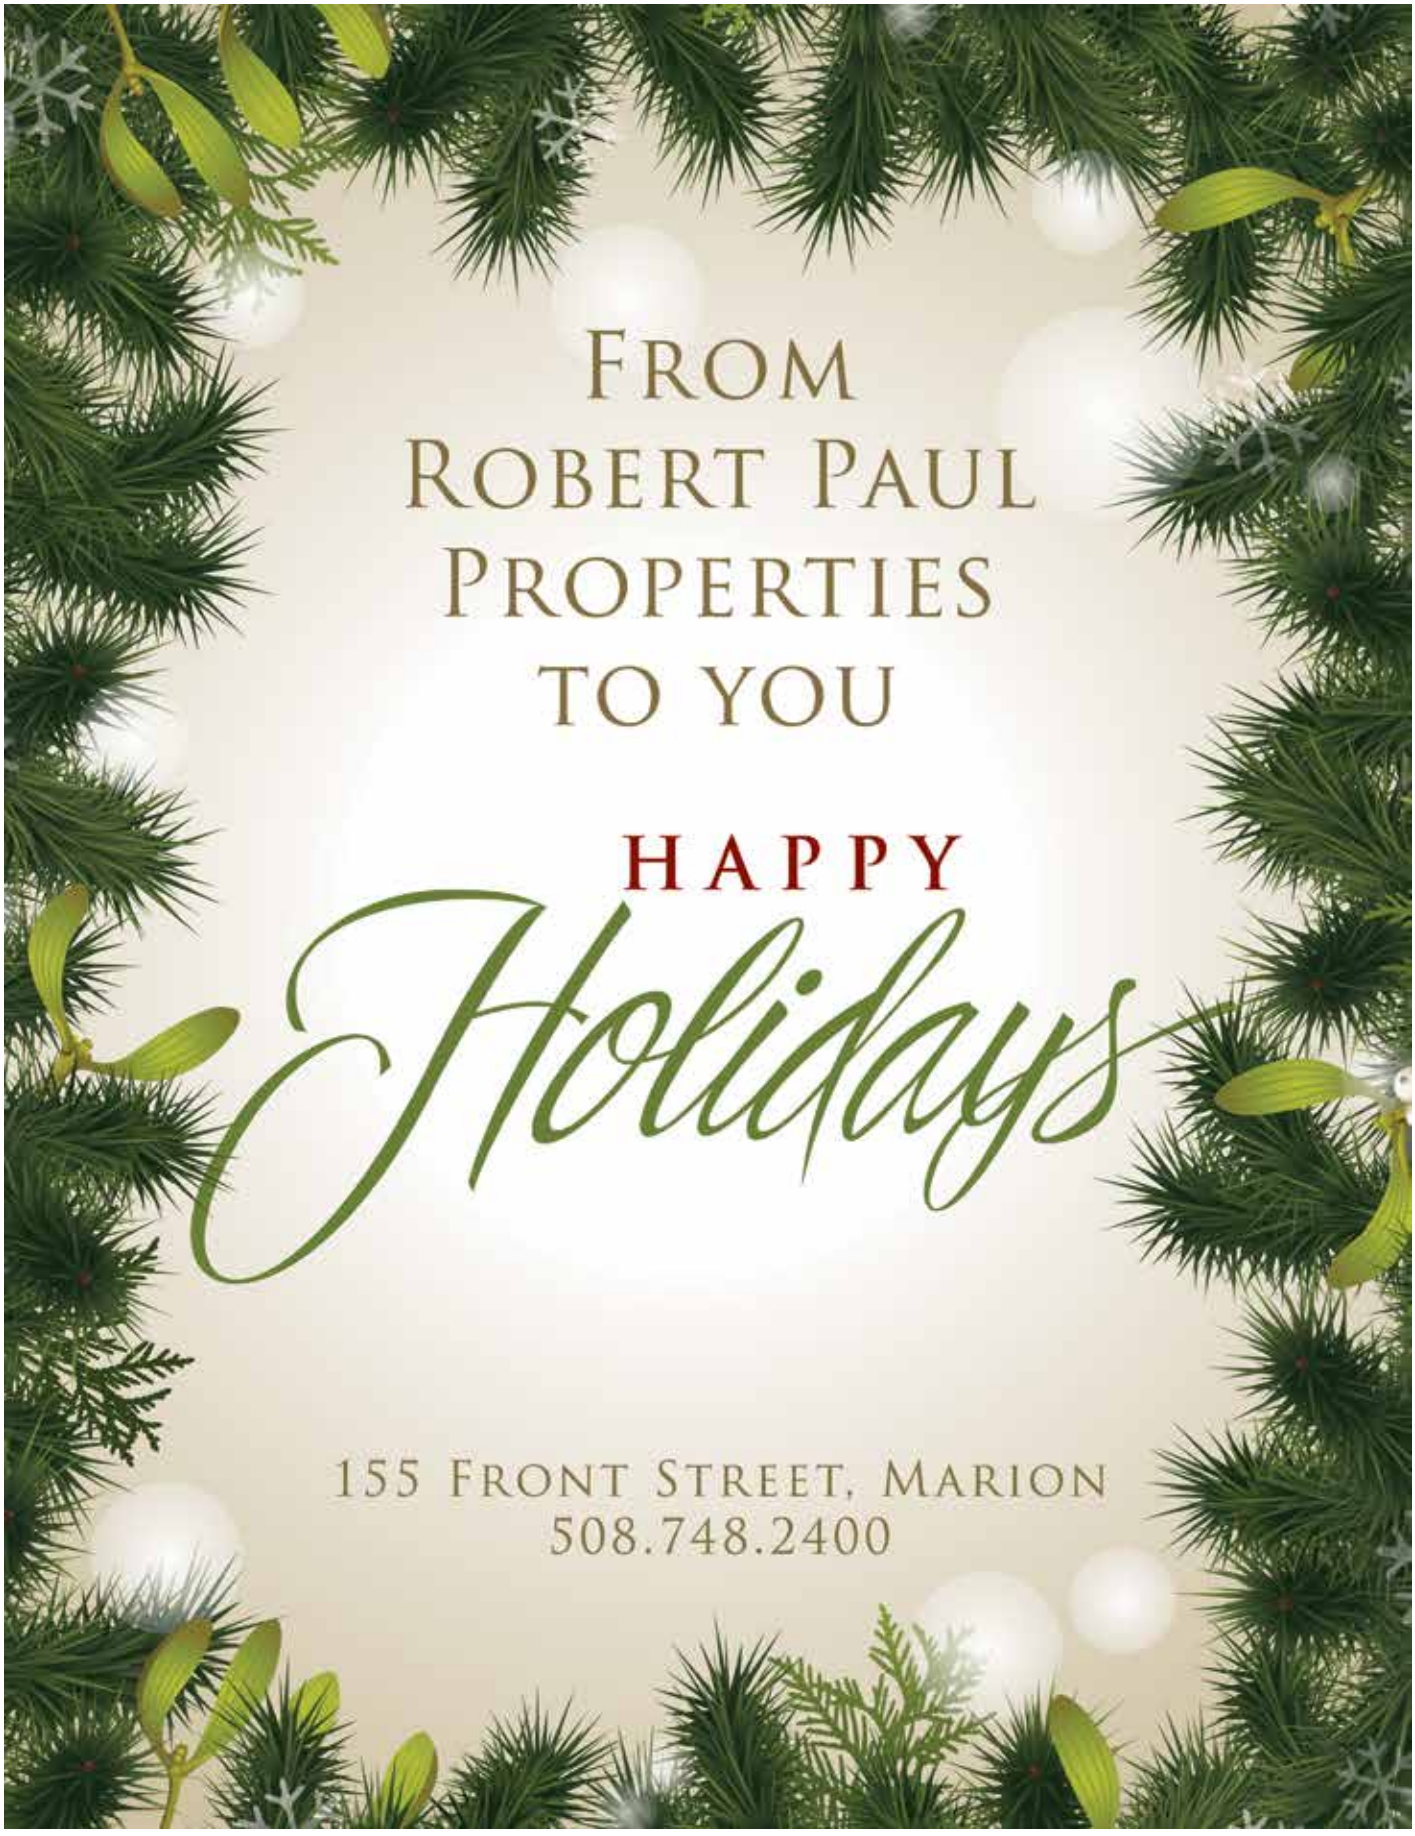

"I'm looking forward to getting some skiing in. Also, I'm glad I have some time to finish up my college applications that are due in January," said O'Malley. "Besides that, doing nothing for once will be fun."

Graser also gave her opinion.

"It's the best thing that could possibly ever happen," said Graser. "Up until Christmas, I'll be focused on Toys for Tots, and then I'll be catching up on sleep and grading papers."

Without a doubt, the extended vacation gives students and teachers something to be thankful for over the break.

Davis to Play for the USA U18 Hockey Team

Tabor Academy News

By Julia O'Rourke

Although the Winter sports season is just beginning at Tabor, Tabor Academy senior Samantha Davis has been playing hockey all year.

Davis was recently named to the USA U18 National Team after a series of training camps. Over the summer, Davis was invited to Lake Placid, where she participated in a training camp for the team. After this, she was named to the U18 select team and competed against Team Canada in a three-game series in Calgary, Canada.

This past fall, Davis was invited to the Pre-Four Nations Camp with the National Team players. This was "an amazing experience" for Davis – an event during which she had the chance to meet some Olympic competitors.

These camps and series led Davis to being named to the U18 team a few weeks ago. She and the team will compete in the Under-18 Women's World Championships in Buffalo, New York next month.

Davis, who has been playing hockey since age seven, signed her letter of intent to continue her career at Boston University in November. She has been a varsity member of the Tabor Academy Girls' Hockey Team since her freshman year and is now a co-captain of the team.

"I am excited about competing for a gold medal in a few weeks and for the experience I'm about to have,"

Davis said. "I can't wait to put on the USA jersey again because it never gets old."

Despite all of her accolades, Davis is modest about her hockey career and seeks to improve even more.

"My goals as a hockey player are to keep developing my game, to become a better player and to learn from the older girls ahead of me," said Davis. "I just want to be the best I can be."

Boys' Basketball: After losing several key players to graduation, many questions arose as to how good the Bulldogs could be with only one returning varsity starter. The Bulldogs responded loudly with two huge opening wins against SCC competitors Case and Apponequet this week. In their season opener against Case, the Bulldogs won in a massive 94-45 victory, taking a 20-0 lead in the first five minutes and never looking back. Captain Jordan Menard led the Bulldogs offensively with 22 points, while freshman phenom Noah Fernandes impressed by scoring fifteen points while also recording several assists and steals. The starting five, which include Menard, Fernandes, Ryan Beatty, and Evan and Will Santos, worked remarkably well together, a fact they further proved in a 69-50 win over Apponequet. If the Bulldogs can keep up the momentum and continue to play off each other's strengths, they have a legitimate chance of capturing the SCC title for the first time in over a decade.

Girls' Basketball: The Lady Bulldogs had a fairly strong week following their season opening victory against New Bedford. The girls defeated Case 29-24 thanks to a strong offensive performance by sophomore Olivia Labbe, who led the team offensively with 13 points. However, the girls took a small step back with a 56-34 loss to Apponequet later in the week, despite a phenomenal third quarter and a strong effort by Kaleigh

Goulart, who led the team with 10 points.

Boys' Swimming: The boys' swim team suffered their first loss of the season this week to SCC powerhouse Apponequet, 110-33. The Bulldogs only captured a win in one event, the 100-breaststroke, thanks to Nathan Wentworth, whose time was 1:24.92. The loss also puts the Bulldogs at a 0-1 record for the conference.

Girls' Swimming: Like the boys' swim team, the Lady Bulldogs also suffered their first loss of the season against Apponequet, falling with a score of 91-79. Cate Feldkamp and Julianne Mariner each won events for the Lady Bulldogs: Feldkamp in the 200-freestyle (2:19.11) and Mariner in the 100-breaststroke (1:26.90). Both the boys' and girls' swim teams will compete in the Middleboro Invitational at Middleboro High School on December 29.

Boys' Track: Both the boys' and girls' track teams competed in the annual SCC Holiday Relays this week and gathered some excellent results. The boys took first in the team standings with 79 points, with wins in five of nine events. Kevin Saccone and Ben Rounseville had great days for the Bulldogs, as they each took part in three winning relays: the high jump relay (with Will Hopkins), the shuttle hurdle relay (with Eli Spevack and Andrew Bischel), and the 4x2 lap relay (with Hopkins and Hunter Cooney). The boys' next regular season meet will be against Case, GNB Voc-Tech, and Bourne on December 31.

Girls' Track: The Lady Bulldogs also took home the team title at the SCC Holiday Relays, winning with a dominant 107 points. The girls' distance team really shined through, with Rachel Scheub, Maddie Meyer, Nina Bourgeois, and Nicole Mattson capturing the distance medley. Scheub, Bourgeois, and Meyer would also team up with Haily Saccone to take first in the other distance event, the 4x800 relay, where a B team for the Lady Bulldogs also took third. The Lady Bulldogs won six of the nine events offered, showing overall depth in multiple events.

Ice Hockey: After a tough season-opening loss to Somerset-Berkeley, the ORR/Fairhaven ice hockey team rebounded nicely with a 3-2 win over out-of-conference Sandwich. The Bulldogs had a rough start and were

Nasketucket Bird Club Meeting

At January's Nasketucket Bird Club meeting, Fairhaven resident and professional photographer Dan Logan will show some of his images from the past year of birds that live in or pass through southeastern Massachusetts.

The event will be held at 7:00 pm on Thursday, January 22 at the Mattapoisett Public Library. The meeting is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Carolyn Longworth at bvm1290@comcast.net.

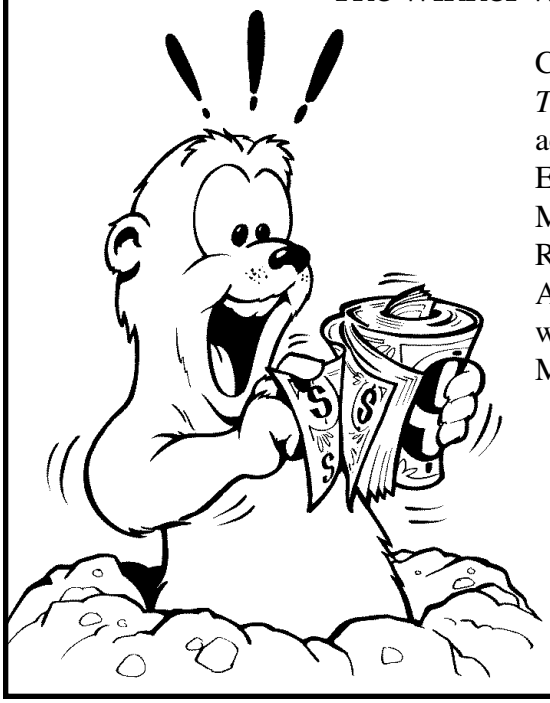

Logan's images range from common summer birds including the Piping Plover and Barn Swallow to less frequently seen species such as the Long-Eared Owl, Yellow-breasted Chat, Wood Duck, Northern Gannet and Black-throated Gray Warbler.

He will share the stories behind the photographs and talk about the challenges of photographing fast-moving birds.

Obituaries:

Allen Thurston Parker, 85, of Mattapoisett, died December 17, 2014. He was the beloved husband of Shirley J. (Corey) Parker and the son of the late Mabel (Tripp) and Robert E. Parker.

Born and lived at Pine Hill Farm in Acushnet until joining the Army during the Korean conflict, served as a sergeant in the 325th Tank Battalion and after his discharge and marriage, lived in Fairhaven, Rochester and Mattapoisett. He was a descendant of Whaling Capt. George J. Parker and of Whaling Capt. John J. Parker.

He retired from AT&T in 1986 after spending many years with New England Telephone Company. Later he was assigned to Lucent Technologies as a retiree. He was one of the first Emergency Medical Technicians in Rochester and a volunteer for the fire department until moving to Mattapoisett. He also served as "Bake Master" for the Rochester Fireman's annual clambakes for many years and also the American Legion Post 280 clambakes in Mattapoiosett.

A 7th degree member of the National Grange, Acushnet and Pomona Granges, past President of the Long Plain Museum and past President of the Bristol Life Members Telephone Pioneers of America and was honored to participate in their 1984 Olympic Torch Run. He was also a member of Old Dartmouth Historical Society, Gateway Treasure Hunter's Club, Sippican Seniors of Marion, Royal Travelers, Brandt Beach Association and Descendant's of Whaling Masters and a volunteer to repair talking books for the Perkin's Institute for the Blind.

Survivors include his widow; his sons, Craig E. Parker of Rochester and Barry A. Parker of Fairhaven; grandchildren, Jennifer L. Parker and her husband, Shawn of Windham, New Hampshire and Michael R. Parker and wife, Rachel of Norfolk,Virginia; and great-grandaughter, Scarlett Avery Parker.

He was the brother of the late Raymond C. Parker and Earl F. Parker and the great-grandfather of the late Kara Avery Parker.

Visiting hours were held on Friday, December 19th at the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett. His family received guests on Saturday morning, December 20th in the funeral home followed by his Graveside Service in Acushnet Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to Long Plain Museum, P.O. Box 30339, Acushnet, MA 02743.

Harry M. Carlson, Jr., 65, of Wareham, died Dec. 15, 2014 at home. He was the son of the late Harry M. Carlson, Sr. and Linnea M. (Lawson) Carlson.

He was born in Wareham and lived there all of his life.

Mr. Carlson graduated from Tabor Academy in Marion, Dean Junior College and Kent State University in Kent, OH.

Mr. Carlson taught Physical Education in the Town of Wareham for 35 years and later was the Athletic Director before retiring in 2009. For the last 6 years, Mr. Carlson coached for Lady Sting Softball in Easton.

He was a wonderful father and grandfather who loved his family.

George A. DeMello of Falmouth, passed away in the Falmouth Hospital surrounded by his family, on Tuesday, December 16, 2014. He was 77. He was the beloved husband of Shirley (Ransom) DeMello of 58 years.

George was born in New Bedford, MA, the son of the late George and Marie (Arnold) DeMello. He served as a sergeant in the United States Marine Corp. He was a graduate of Tabor Academy where he captained the football, wrestling, and Lacrosse teams.

George was the owner and operator of DeMello Electric, serving the Cape Cod community, with both residential and commercial projects. He was a life-long resident of Falmouth. He enjoyed family, friends, sports and animals. He was a known for his quick wit, engaging smile and great sense of humor.

Besides his beloved wife Shirley, George is survived by his children, George DeMello and his wife Molly of Cotuit MA, Tim DeMello and his wife, Lauri of Boston MA & Austin TX, and Lisa (DeMello) Stryke and her husband Phil of Easton MA; brother, Antonio DeMello and his wife Paz of TX; and daughter-in-law, Mary C. DeMello of Medfield MA; 7 grandchildren: Madison, George, Nicole, Zachary, Rachel, Hannah, and Hannah; and many loved nieces and nephews.

The family wishes to thank all his doctors, nurses and the staff at Falmouth Hospital.

Visiting hours were held on Saturday, December 20th in the Chapman, Cole & Gleason Funeral Home, 475 Main Street Falmouth Center. Following the visitation, a Funeral Mass was celebrated in the Saint Anthony's Church, 167 East Falmouth Hwy (Route 28) East Falmouth. Burial was in the Saint Anthony's Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to Cape Cod Healthcare Foundation for Falmouth Hospital, P.O. Box 370, Hyannis, MA 02601.

James D. Hannigan, 37, of Rochester, passed away unexpectedly on Monday, December 15, 2014 at home.

Born in Plymouth, he was the son of Caren (Farrell) Hannigan and the late Rev. Lewis J. Hannigan.

James had attended the former Calvary Christian School in Freetown.

He worked as an installer for Grand Illusion Home Theater and Surround Systems.

James enjoyed being outdoors especially fishing, riding motorcycles and driving his Mustang. Most of all, he loved playing with his nieces.

Surviving in addition to his mother, are two sisters, Rebecca Hannigan and her fiancé Ibrahim Kouta of W. Wareham and Sarah A. Hall and her husband Michael of Rochester; two nieces, Skylah and Marina Kouta; his girlfriend, Suzy Strawn; aunts, Rose Ruxton, Mary Lou Proia and her husband Rocky and Patricia McNally; many cousins; and numerous friends.

Relatives and friends were invited to attend visiting hours on Sunday, December 21, 2014 with a Memorial Service in the Waring-Sullivan Home of Memorial Tribute at Fairlawn, 180 Washington St., Fairhaven. Burial will be private. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Give Forward, c/o James D. Hannigan Funeral and Burial Fund. For online tributes: www.waring-sullivan.com

Frances T. (O'Byrne) Duff, 93, of Mattapoisett died December 19, 2014 at Sippican Health Care Center.

She was the widow of the late John R. Duff.

Born in Brockton, the daughter of the late Christopher and Sarah (O'Grady) O'Byrne, she lived in Mattapoisett most of her life.

She was a communicant of St. Anthony's Church in Mattapoisett.

Mrs. Duff was formerly employed as a teacher and principal at Parting Ways School in Acushnet for many years before retiring from teaching at Ford Middle School.

She enjoyed boating.

Survivors include a son, John R. "Jack" Duff, Jr. and his wife Evelyn of Mattapoisett; a daughter, Maureen C. Best and her husband Robert of Mattapoisett; a brother, Christopher J. O'Byrne, Jr. of Abington; a sister, Lucille Peters of Raynham; 9 grandchildren, Kimberly M. Riley, Keri L. Duff, Shelley R. Butler, John R. Duff III, Tara L. Ignacio, Robert W. Best Jr., Meghan E. Rocha, Maureen C. Best, and Ryan P. Best; 11 great-grandchildren, Braydon, Aja-Leigh, Harrison, Mackenzie, Jack, Drew, Marissa, Riley, Garrett, Amanda and Gavin; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was the sister of the late Eleanor Dupuy and Sarah J. McGarry.

Her Funeral was held on Monday from the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett, followed by her Funeral Mass at St. Anthony's Church. Burial followed in Pine Island Cemetery. Visiting hours were held on Sunday. For guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

Machacam Club

The Machacam Club will hold its January meeting on January 7 at the Legion Hall, 3 Depot Street. Social time is 5:30 pm; dinner at 6:00 pm.

Our special guest, courtesy of Cal Perkins, will be Tim Fallon who grew up sailing Beetle Cats in Buzzards Bay. Tim's presentation on PowerPoint will be the story of Charles C. Hanley, the "rule of thumb" designer and builder of a line of fast catboats and centerboard sloops during the golden age of the catboats from 1875 through the early 1900s. Specifically, he will cover the construction of a 28-foot catboat designed by Hanley. The Kathleen was launched in 2006, the result of an experiment to recreate one of the fastest racing catboats of all time.

Marion Art Center Winter/Spring 2015 Classes

The Marion Art Center is now accepting registrations for its Winter/Spring 2015 classes. The Marion Art Center is located at 80 Pleasant Street (main entrance is on Main Street) in Marion. For more information, please call 508-748-1266 or visit www.marionartcenter.org.

Advanced Watercolor Painting: Fridays from 10:00 am to 12:00 noon; January 23 to March 13 (8 weeks); Instructor: Jay Ryan; Tuition: $175 members / $190 non-members (materials not included). Note: This course requires a minimum of five students to run.

This course is a perfect "next step" for those who would like to explore watercolor painting beyond a basic understanding of color and brush strokes. Using the brilliant nature of light (and dark), we'll "push" the medium, adding other water media, brushes, and paper surfaces, and experiment with palette color mixing to capture magic and luminosity. In each class, we will start a new painting together using landscape, still life,

Unbroken.* Starring Jack O'Connell and Domhnall Gleeson. Directed by Angelina Jolie. Running time: 137 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

"If you can take it, you can make it," says the helpful brother of Louis Zamperini (Jack O'Connell) early in Unbroken, giving us, though not Louis, an idea of what we're in for. What does it take -- what fortitude, what inner reserves of strength or patience -- to make it to the end of Unbroken? The first hour cuts back and forth between Louis' pre-war life as just the fastest, bestest runner you ever saw, and Louis as a bombardier in World War II, before his plane goes down in the ocean and he and two fellow soldiers survive on a raft for forty-seven days. Then the raft bumps into a Japanese warship. From there, you will spend the next sixty-five minutes with Louis in a POW camp and then a colder POW camp.

These epics (usually singing the praises of the Greatest Generation) that make a virtue of endurance always make the mistake of demanding endurance of the audience as well. There's an element of shaming in this: If Louis Zamperini could spend years of his life being tortured in a POW camp, you can spend two hours of yours watching him being tortured, you non-Greatest Generation sissies. Based on a bestseller by Laura Hillenbrand, Unbroken has attracted a lot of intelligent talent: a run of screenwriters (William Nicholson, then Richard LaGravenese, then Joel and Ethan Coen) and director Angelina Jolie, and it's hard to say what enticed any of them. The movie is about a man who suffers and perseveres and survives, and it isn't about anything other than that.

Well, maybe it is: it's also about homoerotic sadism, a theme that most every prison yarn is good for, even after Jean Genet's Un Chant D'Amour made it explicit in 1950. Louis draws the eye of Mutsuhiro Watanabe (Miyavi), aka "the Bird," a POW sergeant who takes out his career frustration on the allied prisoners and especially on tough, attractive Louis. This sadist looks and acts feminine and sometimes seems to be leching after Louis; after a while, nobody else in the camp interests Watanabe -- he only has eyes for Louis. This all is drawn crudely, with none of the formal tension of something like Merry Christmas, Mr. Lawrence. I haven't read the book -- did the born-again Louis make as much of Watanabe's fixation on him as the film does? Jolie, good liberal that she is, presents the dynamic but mutes it. As it is, Watanabe represents nothing but grinning sadism, as Louis stands for nothing but stoic American Christian resilience.

After the CIA torture report has come to light, it's amusing that an epic about the spiritual value of enduring torture should become the country's big Christmas Day release. Is Louis meant to be our very own American Christ, suffering for humanity's sins and then forgiving his tormentors (as we're told at the end, in some onscreen text that might've made for a more interesting film than the one we've just sat through)? Jolie straight-up turns Louis into Jesus at one point, when Louis, carrying a heavy plank over his head, casts a cruciform shadow on the soil of the prison camp. Louis hefting the plank is also the central image of the marketing. What's actually going on here? Those who made this long, grinding tribute to The Passion of the American may find the question hurtful, but I say if you make it, you can take it.

Preschool Piano (age 3-5 years): Friday mornings at the Marion Art Center, 25 minute private lessons for children ages 3-5 years. $20 per lesson (includes cost of music/materials/recital).

Little Mozart's Preschool Piano is an early music enrichment program for children, ages 3 to 5. Lessons are designed to introduce children to the piano, and teach basic foundation skills that will inspire an early appreciation for music. Individual lessons place an emphasis on rhythm, finger position, music vocabulary, music notation, note reading, and encourage overall fine motor development. It is offered three times per year at the Marion Art Center for 10-week sessions during the fall (Sept-Dec), winter/spring (Jan-April), and summer (July-August). Each session concludes with a short recital. Children may repeat sessions through age 5 to enhance their knowledge and performance skills. To reserve a lesson time, contact Jamie Wiksten at jwiksten@verizon.net or 508-295-0379.

Saturday Morning Piano Lessons: Piano lessons for beginners and intermediates are offered on Saturday mornings, by appointment only, with instructor Donald Richard.

Winter Session begins January10 and runs until the end of the school year. To reserve a lesson time, please

Gateway Youth Hockey

Mites H: The Gateway Mite H team won both games of a double header Saturday. In the first game, the Mites defeated the Falmouth Lightning by a score of 15-5. It was a total team effort. Gateway was shorthanded – only having four skaters and a goalie – but came out on top. Goals were scored by Charlie Carroll, Paxton Jones, Jack Langlais and Kevin Place with Nathan Wilson solid in net. In the second game, Gateway defeated the number one team Barnstable 11-8. Jones and Langlais each had a hat trick and an assist. Carroll and Place had two goals apiece while Lilia Lopez Del Moral had a goal and an assist. It was a total team effort as every player in each game had a goal. Wilson had several saves to preserve the win for Gateway.

Mites C: The Gateway Mite C team had another comeback tie against the SC Panthers in a game that ended 10-10. Jarrod Frates had four goals to lead the team. The other scorers were Paxton Jones, Ben Hebble, Pat Tripp and Brayden Cannon. Charlie Carroll had 45 saves on the night. Gateway played hard to the finish and only has one loss in its last six games.

Squirts: The Gateway Squirts came out a little sluggish Saturday after having a week away from the ice, but they soon found their legs, winning 4-2 against Braintree White. In the first, Matthew Quinlan found the

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your love of the holidays creates a special bond between you and the people in your life. Use this as a way of building stronger relationships that will carry over well beyond this time.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A new approach could go a long way toward resolving a painful estrangement, especially at this holiday time. And since your aspects favor friendship this week, why not go ahead and try it?

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your positives continue to dominate, and any negative factors that squeeze in can be dealt with easily. The secret is to tackle them at once and not allow them to benefit by your neglect.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Good news: A colleague's remarks could help you move toward ultimately resolving that persistent workplace situation. Meanwhile, enjoy the holidays with loved ones.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) No one reflects the bright holiday more than all you Leos and Leonas who love the shimmer and glimmer of the season. P.S.: There just might be a very special something from Santa.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Celebrate the holidays by being more receptive to new experiences. Overriding the Virgo reluctance to try new things could be the best gift you've given yourself in a long while.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Good news about a loved one makes the holidays even more festive. Expect some unexpected gifts, so be prepared with a few nicely wrapped packages of goodies to offer in return.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The holiday season provides an opportunity to meet new people, some of whom you might even consider "worthy" enough to join the Scorpio's select group of friends.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You always bring your own wonderful sparkle and light to the holidays, and don't be surprised if this year someone special reaches out to respond to your warmth in kind.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Togetherness is the dominant theme for the Goat's holiday celebrations this year. That means reaching out to bring everyone you care for into your very own special circle of light.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A reminder of a very special moment from the past makes the holidays more memorable for the romantic Aquarian. New friendships hold the promise of a romantic future as well.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Getting into the swim of things for all you party-loving Pisceans is easy enough this holiday season. And, of course, you can expect to impress people wherever you go.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your dedication brings you the success you strive for, and your generosity impels you to reach out and help others on their way up.

net assisted by Matthew Paling. In the second period, Gateway played back and forth hockey, putting points on the board with goals credited to Braden MacDonald with assist from Juni Suarez, Quinlan with assist from Ty Ribeiro, and Suarez with assists from Thomas Leger and Ribeiro. Ryker King faced some great shots but kept the scoring low.

Pee Wees: The Gateway Pee Wee team beat their rivals, the Canal Sharks, on Sunday morning by a score of 5-2. Both teams played good, hard hockey keeping the game scoreless through the first period. Gateway players put three points on the board in the second period off goals by RJ Vickery and Matthew Quinlan, assisted by Zachary Barris. The Sharks came out strong in the third period, scoring two goals of their own, but Gateway's Jack Martins and Vickery would seal the deal with two final goals.

Bantams: The Gateway Youth Hockey Bantams defeated the WHK Hawks, 7-1, on Saturday night. Josh Smolinsky scored the only goal of an evenly matched first period, assisted by Tyler Lovendale and Robert Ramsay. But it was Gateway's dominant second period that blew out the Hawks. Lovendale had a hat trick in the period! Michael Ripley and Zachary Lovendale also added goals in the second. Leading 6-0 entering the third period, defenseman Coleby Paling moved up to wing and netted Gateway's seventh tally with a breakaway finish in the top shelf. Goalie Zachary Pateakos continues to play well, earning his second consecutive shutout in net.

Marion Town House Committee to Seek Architect

Next month, the Marion Town House Building Committee with the Marion Board of Selectmen will issue a Request for Qualifications to hire an architectural team to prepare a feasibility study to renovate and modernize the historic Marion Town House. The landmark building was constructed in 1876 1890 for Tabor Academy as a gift from the town's most important benefactor, Elizabeth Taber. In 1937, it was given to the Town of Marion as part of a land swap with the growing school. The 138-year old building is now in need of extensive repairs and updating to meet current building codes and modern functionality.

The RFQ asks for three Town House renovation options to be studied as well as a fourth option, which would incorporate master planning for the Town House, the Elizabeth Taber Library and a senior center. The resulting feasibility study will result in conceptual plans of all four options and will inform townspeople as to what renovation plan is most feasible and what the cost will be. The four options specifically exclude demolition of the 1876 building

The Town House Building committee members are Paul Dawson (Town Manager), Lynn Crocker, Priscilla Ditchfield, Jon Henry (selectman), Wayne Matteson, Bob Raymond (chairman), Bill Saltonstall, Meg Steinberg and

The ultimate goal of the study is to provide modern functional town facilities in beautifully renovated buildings compatible with the special character of the town. The Committee will hold a public hearing next summer at the completion of the study to present the results.

K of C Teen Dances

All of the Teen Dances held at the Knights Hall are sponsored and run by the Knights of Columbus, Damien Council. As a preventive measure – not because of any problems – a uniformed police detail officer is hired for each dance. Several Knights and Ladies Auxiliary members chaperone each dance. Once a teen has entered the Knights Hall, they are not allowed to leave the building unless being picked up by a parent or guardian. As always, Disc Jockey Jason Mello provides the music. Mr. Mello is a member of the Knights of Columbus.

The Knights want 6th, 7th and 8th graders to have a fun and safe environment to socialize and dance on scheduled Friday evenings. We invite any parent who wants to see what the dances are all about to visit a dance. Please stop in when you drop your child off, introduce yourself to the chaperones, and take a look around so you know how your child will be spending the evening.

All proceeds from these dances support our local Knights of Columbus charities and expenses in maintaining the Knights Hall. If you have any questions about our Teen Dances, do not hesitate to call Jim Alferes at 508-863-3496 or stop by the beginning of the next dance!

Teen Dances are scheduled for the following dates from 7:00 - 10:00 pm:
Friday, January 9, 2015
Friday, January 30, 2015

Every January, the world's largest whaling museum marks the anniversary of Herman Melville's 1841 whaling voyage from New Bedford with a 25-hour nonstop reading of America's greatest novel: Moby-Dick. The weekend includes three days of activities, January 2-3-4, 2015, including a ticketed buffet dinner and lecture on Friday evening.

A midwinter tradition, the marathon attracts hundreds of readers and listeners from around the world. The reading begins at noon on Saturday, January 3 and finishes at 1:00 pm on Sunday, January 4. Snow and cold will not stop this literary happening. Come at any time, leave at any time, or stay 25 hours and win a prize! For more information, visit www.whalingmuseum.org.

Marion Town Events Calendar

As Marion residents look ahead to the busy holiday season, they should keep in mind that the Town Events Calendar, found at the Town of Marion website, is a great place to learn about the many holiday activities in Marion that are open to the public. There are listings for community happenings, events sponsored by the Sippican Historical Society, the Elizabeth Taber Library, Tabor Academy, and the Marion Art Center, and many other opportunities to learn, listen, and enjoy. Go to the town website at www.marionma.gov, click on calendars, choose the Town Events Calendar and learn what is going on in Town that might appeal to you.

This site can also be useful when considering a date for an event to determine what the competition might be for your choice of day and/or time.

The Town Events Calendar is managed for the Friends of Marion Council on Aging by Michele Bissonette, Assistant Town Clerk. To register an event in the calendar, contact Michele at mbissonette@marionma.gov and request a copy of the Calendar Guidelines and an online Event Notice Form.

SouthCoast Toastmaster's Club

The SouthCoast Toastmaster's Club, a public speaking, communications and leadership organization meets the first and third Thursday of each month from noon to 1:00 pm at the Marion Recreation Center at 13 Atlantis Avenue in Marion. The building is located near the Sippican Healthcare campus and Marconi Village.

Come and experience what happens at our meetings! We have a vocabulary word of the day, a joke of the day, two 5-7 minute prepared speeches, two-minute extemporaneous speaking sessions and evaluations of what just happened. The meeting is one hour. Come and bring your brown bag lunch.

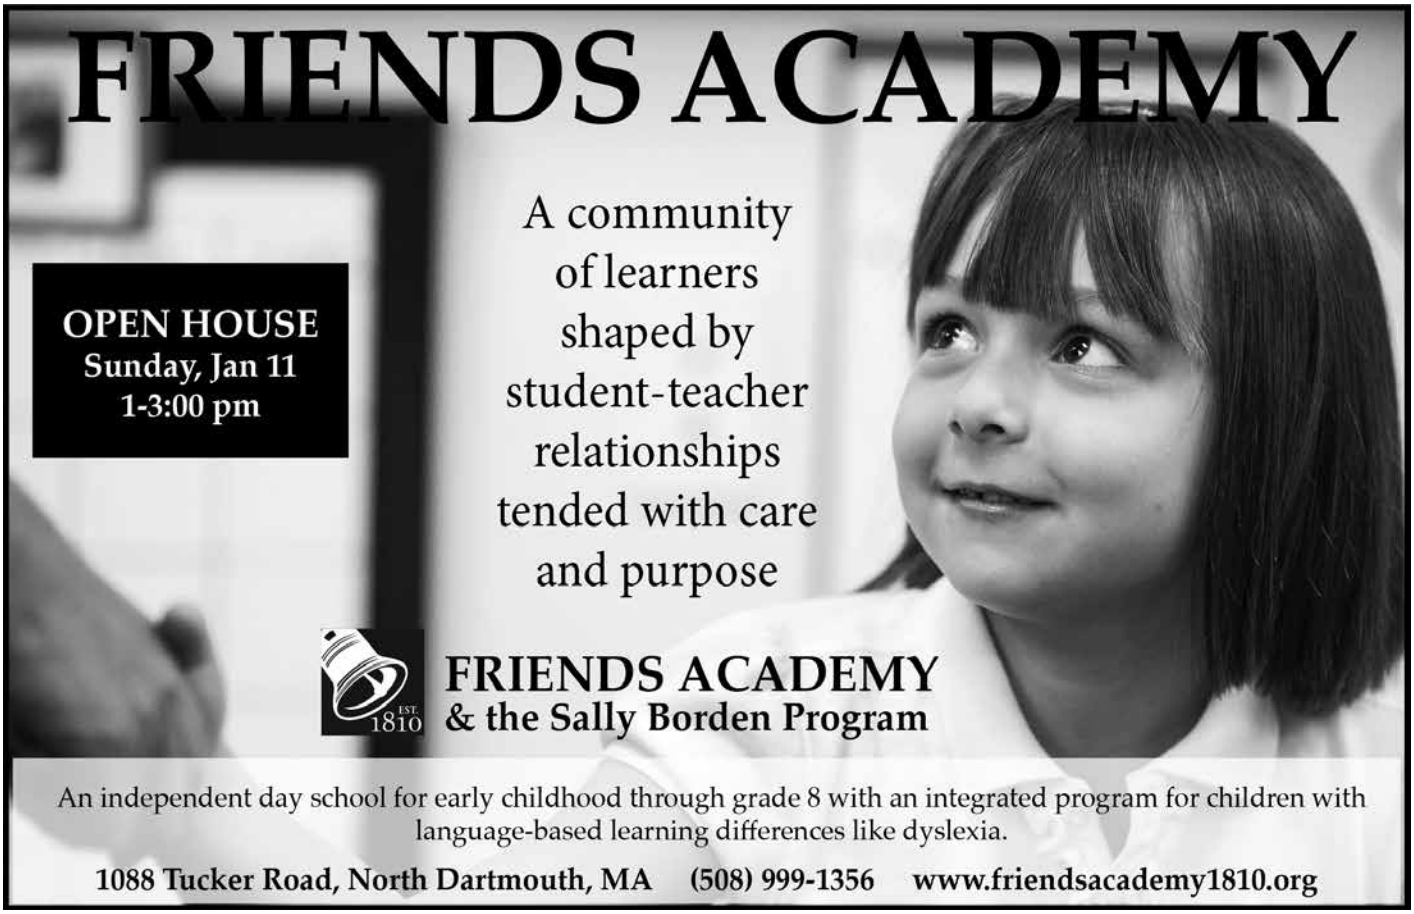

Get over your jitters and gain more confidence in your presentation skills. Bring a friend. For more information, call 508-292-6706 or visit our web site at www.Marion.ToastmastersClubs.org.

FISH - Friends In Service Helping

Friends In Service Helping has been in operation in Mattapoisett since 1969. We provide rides to medical appointments for elderly residents who cannot drive anymore. We service Mattapoisett residents with transportation from their homes to Wareham, Marion, Fairhaven, New Bedford, and Dartmouth, as well as right here in Mattapoisett. Last year alone, we transported 301 residents!

Our town does not have public transportation. Our elderly residents are counting on FISH to get them to their medical appointments. We need more volunteer callers and drivers. We always work around your schedule when it is convenient for you! To find out more about your opportunity to be a FISH volunteer, please call FISH Coordinator Jacquie McGraw at 508-758-9278.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark
In the December 18, 2014 issue the Aardvark was on page 16!
